

THE MARKETS.

Aggressively Strong Movement, and Call Rates on the Ascendant.

New York, Oct. 30.—The prevailing monetary conditions were again the dominating influence in the stock market to-day. The rank and file of traders, figuring upon even more stringent rates for money on call than had yesterday, had been prepared to see a decline in stocks to-day. The actual movement, however, was aggressively strong, the course of prices being governed by the early intelligence received by powerful speculative interests that a combined effort would be made by the banks to prevent rates rising to a point liable to precipitate disaster. London prices for American securities came higher, and to this favorable development was soon added the inspiring semi-official news that a number of leading banks and trust companies had pooled their surplus reserve resources, variably estimated at from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000, and would put out as much money as might be needed by legitimate borrowers, though at rates not low enough to encourage hoarding. The extreme fluctuations in call funds ranged from 50 per cent. soon after the opening to 6 per cent. at the close. In addition the bank syndicate or pool loaned money for three days' transactions at 100 per cent., equivalent to 3 per cent. Business was well distributed, with sugar leading in point of strength and activity. The stock second an extreme advance of 4 1/2 per cent. to 115 1/2. The rise was partly attributed to the covering of shorts based upon reported improvement in trade conditions.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

Live Stock.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Cattle.—The bulk of the cattle crossed the scales at $4.10 1/4 to $4.15, with no good steers below $4.15. Sales at $5 were numerous and with fancy cattle sold at $5.10 to $5.15; stockers and feeders, $4.00 to $4.10; western range, $3.80 to $4.00. Hogs.—Common to prime lots, $3.90 to $4.00; packing droves, $3.75 to $3.90. Sheep.—Inferior to choice sheep sold at $3.50 to $3.75; feeders, $2.50 to $3.00; western range sheep, $2.75 to $3.00; prime heavy natives, $3.25 to $3.50; lambs, $4.40 to $4.60. Receipts.—Cattle, 3,000; hogs, 24,000; sheep, 5,000.

Wheat Market.

Wheat opened to-day with some show of weakness, Liverpool cablegrams quoted that market irregularly lower, not withstanding the advance of 1c here. That market board was evidently affected more by the tight money market in New York than by the higher price for wheat. This naturally created a weak feeling here to begin with, and it was not until it was seen that the market was not so weak as it appeared that the opening opportunity of lower prices to add to their line that general confidence was restored and the bullish aspect of the market fully reestablished. The news from San Francisco was quite bullish and buying orders were numerous. A continuation of the Australian demand was reported. The New York money market was a weak factor early, as the stringency was said to continue with rates about as sensational as they were yesterday.

Chicago Produce Market.

Close—December wheat, 72c; corn, 25c; oats, 12 1/2c; January pork, $7.45; lard, $4.42; ribs, $3.30. Receipts: Wheat, 14,000 bushels; corn, 41,000 bushels; oats, 50,000 bushels.

San Francisco Wheat Market.

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—Wheat was more irregular to-day than yesterday, but the situation continues strong. Speculative options opened at a sharp advance but weaker cables came from Liverpool and there were sharp sales to secure profits and prices afterward went slightly below yesterday's closing price.

New York Wheat Market.

New York, Oct. 30.—Wheat scored a 2c advance to-day under adverse circumstances. The bulls' side was hampered by lower cables, mixed foreign trade and heavy wheat receipts. In the face of this, supported by easier money, prices were carried up to 50 1/2-51c for December, and after a final slight set-back rested at 77 1/2c.

Boston Wool Market.

Boston, Oct. 30.—The Boston Commercial Bulletin says of the wool market: The market continues active, the sales being swollen to an unusual business by heavy transactions in Australian and carpet wools. Most of the domestic sold has been territory at very firm figures, although one large sale of 25,000 pounds of spring Texas is reported at 11c and several large transactions in California are to be added. There has been nothing pecially doing in washed fleeces, as they are for the most part being held for a time. The sales of the week are 5,500,000 pounds of domestic and 2,400,000 pounds foreign against 5,711,000 pounds domestic and 2,500,000 pounds foreign last week and 1,751,000 pounds domestic and 255,000 pounds foreign for the same week last year.

The sales to date show a decrease of 30,125,363 pounds domestic and 34,147,000 pounds foreign from the sales of the same date in 1892. The receipts to date show a decrease of 14,522 bales domestic and 14,335 bales foreign.

TRADE REVIEW.

Dun's Report.

New York, Oct. 30.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade to-morrow will say: A market without anything but politics to rule it is not often seen. Business is almost abolished until after election by the extraordinary pressure for money, by the indisposition of anybody to sell who thinks a great change for the better is near, by the feeling that it is now of no use to contract or buy when so little time remains before a decision, made by the general absorption of business men in political activity. The feature of the week has been the pressure in the New York money market in spite of the heavy arrivals of gold. Quotations of call loans at 100 per cent. or more have no real meaning except that with practically four holidays to come in succession there is really no market.

The speculation in wool continues and has taken during the past four weeks 25,000 pounds against 2,500 last year and 26,356,091 in 1892, although less than half the capacity of the mills is employed. It is a gratifying feature, however, that about 12 establishments have started during the week in confidence that business will be larger hereafter. There is as yet only a slight improvement in the demand for lightweight wools.

Iron has been bought largely by speculators, 25,000 tons of Bessemer at Pittsburgh, raising the price to $11.90; the largest quantities of grey forge raising the price to $10.50 and 30,000 tons of all of northern, at Chicago. Finished products are unchanged in quoted prices, although quotations are less shaded than of late to secure business, and there is a strong belief that after a week there will be a marked change. The known orders deferred until after election would by themselves suffice to employ the works for a considerable time.

Failures for the week have been 270 against 273 last year.

Bradstreet's Report.

New York, Oct. 30.—Bradstreet's to-morrow will say: Business staples is confined to immediate wants, interest in the election absorbing attention. The volume of trade is smaller than a week ago, and will continue restricted pending results of the election. Advances from important distributing centers report that leading commercial and industrial houses take a hopeful view of the business outlook and expect an early revival of demand, based on the anticipated success of the second money issue. An encouraging feature is a further advance in the prices of leather, wool, Bessemer, pig iron, steel, Indian corn, lard, raw and refined sugar and for crude and refined petroleum.

Mercantile failures throughout the United States have declined in number this week, the total being 246 against 292 last week, 229 in the same week one year ago, 158 in the corresponding period two years ago, and as compared with 353 in the like week of 1893.

If Troubled With Rheumatism Read This. Annapolis, Md., April 16, 1894.—I have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism and found it to be all that is claimed for it. I believe it to be the best preparation for rheumatism and deep seated muscular pains on the market and cheerfully recommend it to the public. John G. Brooks, dealer in boots, shoes, etc., No. 18 Main street, Mechanicsville, St. Mary County, Md. I sold a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm to a man who had been suffering with rheumatism for several years. It made him a well man. A. J. McGill, For sale at 50 cents per bottle by Druggists.

Queer Partnership.

From the Chicago Chronicle. Indiana produces many wonderful things in nature as well as in politics. One of the most singular of these hoosier productions is a black and tan dog that is now engaged in rearing a family of chickens just to accommodate an old hen with which the dog has been on terms of intimacy for a long time. It appears that the dog, known to his master as Don, had formerly been giving to teasing the hen, snatching her food away from her and otherwise making himself a torment, but this intercourse had gradually turned into friendship and the two would sometimes be seen lying and squatting side by side in the sun, on a bit of carpet in the back porch.

During the three weeks that the hen sat on her eggs Don used to pay daily visits to the barn, and sometimes would stay with her by the half hour. Then the chicks came out of their shells. Don was intensely interested. All day long he scarcely left the barn. The next morning, when the hen stepped off the nest and with a cluck called her brood after her, Don followed her. The hen fell to scratching and the fluffy chicks darted hither and thither, picking up the titbits which the mother had uncovered.

"Good!" said Don to himself: "I can help in this business." and to the terror of the chickens he ran in among them and began turning up the soil at a lively rate. Then he sat down and waited. The mother hen called back the chicks to the newly scratched earth and soon they picked it clean. Then the dog took another turn at the soil and the good work proceeded, to the great delight of all the parties.

FLOWERS IN GREENLAND.

Many Beautiful Specimens Are Found on the Ice Mountains.

From the New York Independent.

Even in June or July, when the weather is the balmiest, as the traveler approaches the coast of Greenland it is hard to believe in the existence of vegetable life on its bleak-looking shores, at least in any quantity. The frowning cliffs, broken and contorted into thousands of fragments and shapes, crowned by perpetual ice and snow, and with great glaciers pouring into the sea from nearly every large valley, appear entirely barren. But as the vessel on which the traveler is approaches nearer in the crevices of the huge rocks and towering precipices, and beside the glistening snow and ice are to be seen patches of green, at first dull, and then vivid as the vessel draws nearer. This is the first glimpse of arctic vegetation which is to teach the student how indomitable this form of life is, and under what adverse circumstances it can and will flourish. These patches of verdure, seen from the sea, and which led Eric the Red more than a thousand years ago to call this "Land of Desolation" (Greenland), are dwarf willows and birches, patches of clump moss and sometimes luxuriant grass.

Once landed, no matter where, in Greenland, between Cape Farewell on the south and Independence bay on the north, flowers are blooming, dwarf willows and birches thriving, grasses and mosses flourishing during the summer months, wherever the ice will afford an opportunity. Indeed, vegetation sometimes assumes the aggressive and overwhelms and buries whole fields of ice, enveloping them in green carpets, mottled with gold and white blossoms of other plants. Two of the most remarkable instances of this victory of vegetable matter over its icy foe are to be found on the shores of Robertson's bay, where the unfortunate John M. Verhoeff, it is now generally conceded, lost his life by falling into the crevasse of a glacier.

On the west side of the bay, rising for nearly 400 feet above sea level, is a conical-shaped mountain. About it are others, all covered with snow, or thrusting their heads into the clouds without covering of any kind, but this conical mountain is mantled from its summit to its waterside in green moss to a thickness of from two to ten feet, an unbroken mass of verdure, except where here and there patches of bowlders and stones, marking the path of a once lateral moraine, have succeeded in keeping in the light. Beneath this covering of moss rests, to an unknown depth, blue and solid ice, created probably ages ago, and preserved as well as in an icehouse. This ice, as far as can be determined, completely embraces the mountain from crown to foot, a mass which once gleamed serenely in the summer sunlight as un conquered fields do in the present era in Greenland.

A Novel Entertainment.

From the Chicago Chronicle.

Society in the past has had the conversation, the kermess, the kettle-drum and many other functions of more or less individuality, and now it has the "michinaza." Just what this is cannot be particularly explained just now except by saying that it is a mixture of a little of everything. A fair, ball, concert, lecture, amateur circus, tableaux vivants, amateur opera, play, gymnastic exhibition, a lemonade well, a soda water stand and a sandwich counter. A magic lantern, children's festival, a sparring or fencing match, a billiard tournament may also be employed as factors.

There must be, however, at least four features to make it a true and proper michinaza. Such an affair is to be held in Philadelphia next month, and it will last four days. There will be a grand intercollegiate bazaar, concert, professional, amateur and intercollegiate, and a grand ball.

The University of Pennsylvania, Jefferson college, Bryn Mawr, Lafayette and Lehigh are among the Pennsylvania institutions of learning; Cornell, Union, Colgate, Emma Willard, Vassar, Syracuse, the Rensselaer of the out-of-town colleges of New York state, and Columbia, Barnard, the University of the City of New York, the Polytechnic and the Packer of the Greater New York are expected to be represented. It is also anticipated that some 40 other colleges will take part. The proceeds will be devoted to a number of local charities.

A COUGH, COLIC OR STOMACH requires immediate action. "Brown's Bronchial Troch." will invariably give relief.

IN getting up a wedding trousseau, think how many women are tired out: Dress-makers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," milliners—all hard-worked and weary over it; to say nothing of the young lady herself. Sitting or standing all day in the hardest kind of work; it gives you no healthy well-balanced exercise; part of the body is overworked and the rest of it is underworked. The system grows sluggish; the appetite is poor, the stomach is out of order; the bowels are constipated, you have headaches and dizzy spells. It's impossible for you to take as much out-door exercise in the daylight as you need. The best help you can have in the circumstances is a simple laxative medicine like Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They will, as nearly as any medicine can, supply the want of free exercise which is lacking in all in-door work. They cure dyspepsia, biliousness and constipation in a pleasant, gradual, natural way. There is no griping or weakening effect with the "Pleasant Pellets"; they act surely but gently; they promote liver action, and give tone and strength to the stomach and intestines to do their own work. When you become regular the "Pellets" can be stopped. You need not have to take them forever. The cure is permanent.
